Shack Hardy reported he was confined to Saturday night.

Hardy Robbed, Confined To Shack

Mr. Henry Hardy, a resident of the Co-Lin Trailer Park on Highway 84 West, in Elba, told police last weekend he was robbed and held at knifepoint by five black males during the early hours of Saturday morning.

The victim telephoned police at 12:46 a.m. Saturday morning, and requested to talk to a patrolman. When the police arrived, Hardy told them he was at Rusty Gray's Grocery in Mulberry Heights, on Friday night, January 16, and that between 12:00 a.m. and 1:00 a.m. on Saturday morning, January 17, five black men took him to a shack on Jackson Street and robbed him of $25, $35. Hardy said the men had a knife and forced him to give them the money.

The five men then reportedly shut Hardy up in the shack, where he later escaped by tearing down the front door. No arrests have been made, but the case is under investigation.

Legislators Profile Bill Requiring Itemized Hospital Bills

State Senator Wallace Miller and Representative Jimmy Holley, in a statement this week, stated they had prefilled a bill to require hospitals and nursing homes in Alabama to submit an itemized statement and specific nature of charges of expenses incurred by the patient of a hospital or nursing home.

Miller and Holley said they have done an extensive investigation of alleged excessive hospital charges by Humana Inc. of Louisville, Kentucky, and they have found that patients, most of the time, were unable to obtain an itemized statement of hospital charges.

The legislators remarked that every person using a hospital or emergency room is entitled to an itemized bill at a reasonable time after leaving the facility.

Miller and Holley stated they have turned over to the State Attorney General some information that shows there appears to be excessive charges by Coffee General Hospital in Enterprise which is operated by Humana Inc. Humana's own financial statement showed that in June, July and August, 1980, Coffee General Hospital made a net profit of nearly a half-million dollars, according to the legislators.

Also, Miller and Holley stated they have information that appears that patients were charged for services not

Jury Deadlocks In $42 Million Damage Suit Here Last Week

After two weeks of hearing testimony and deliberating, a Coffee County jury was unable to reach a verdict last Saturday in the $42 million suit filed on behalf of four Covington County children and a Florida woman against two Opp drugstores and a courier firm.

The jury - Owen Ziglar, foreman; Frances Bernell Spivey, Ivelyn Jones Askew, Vera Luvenia Bludsworth, R.C. Carpenter, Billy Randall Granham, Catherine L. Hudson, Ann Akridge Lawford, Howard Paul Lee, Jessie Glenn Murph, Larry Paul Siler and

Mary Spinks Grider - spent 40 minutes Thursday, over 11 hours Friday, and from 8 a.m. until 2 p.m. Saturday discussing the case. Three times they came out and told Circuit Judge Terry Butts they were hopelessly deadlocked.

Ziglar said the first time he reported to the judge that the vast majority of the jury favored the plaintiffs (children and woman), but the jury was hopelessly deadlocked.

Attorney G.A. Lindsey had charged that druggist Lloyd Sellers had placed poison in drugs received by the plaintiffs, the Parolator driver had delivered the box of drugs from Sellers' drug store to Ted's Pharmacy, also in Opp, where it was dispensed to the victims.

The woman received contaminated eye drops and the children received medicine with strychnine, according to lab reports.

The trial has been scheduled to begin again on February 9, with January 30 the deadline for filing motions in the suit. These motions will be heard on February 2.

Family Dispute Ends In Shooting

A domestic dispute between a man and a woman apparently became very heated Saturday afternoon, and the end result was a shooting that sent the man to the Elba General Hospital and the woman to the Coffee County jail.

Police were called to the Elba General Hospital's emergency room on Saturday, January 17, at 12:38 p.m. when hospital officials reported they were treating the victim of a gunshot wound.

After talking with the victim, Mr. Joseph Burnett, police discovered he had been shot by Mrs. Lucille Hammonds, with a .38 caliber pistol following a domestic dispute.

Ms. Hammonds, who was charged with Assault - 1st degree, stated Burnett had hit her with a baseball bat and she had acted in self-defense.

The case is still under investigation and Burnett is listed in stable condition in the Elba General hospital.

Jury Awards Damages Of $750,000 To LeRoy Flowers

It took the jury only a few minutes Friday afternoon to return a record settlement in a suit filed in Circuit Court on behalf of LeRoy Flowers against AAA Motor Lines. The suit was filed following a December, 1979, car-truck collision in Elba. The jury awarded Flowers $750,000.

The suit was filed by Andalusia Attorney Frank Tipler and Elba attorney Gareth Lindsey, and was heard by Circuit Judge Terry Butts and a jury of 12. The suit had asked for $750,000 and the jury awarded him the full amount.

Court testimony revealed that Flowers suffered a broken neck when the car he was driving collided with a AAAA trailer being backed across the Kinston Highway at Dorsey Trailers shortly after 5 a.m. Flowers, who has been disabled for about 18 years, said he had recovered from the accident, but still had some pain.

One member of the jury told this newspaper after the verdict was returned that the only question asked by any juror was, "Is that all we can give him?"

Hospital, Recreation Projects Considered By City Council

The Elba City Council considered several very important items at the regular Monday night meeting. All members were present.

The opening prayer was led by Dr. Judson Vaughn, minister of the Elba First Baptist Church.

The council discussed at length the proposed hospital expansion and the financial obligation of the city; a three-year recreation program; public housing expansion; adopted rules for the fire department; rescinded the 2-hour parking; and spent a few minutes hearing a brief report on the rescue squad and reviewing the financial statement of the city.

Police Chief Ray Norris reported the new police car still hadn't arrived and he had again been promised delivery in ten days. He presented each member of the council with a disposition report of cases made by the police department. Councilmen had no additional questions about the police department.

Hospital Administrator Jim Nichols and Attorney Robert Cannon told the council of the status of the $1,930,000 loan request from Farmers Home Administration. They also presented the council with legal papers that would lease the hospital and nursing home to the city and hire the board as management. The city council had agreed two years ago to furnish up to $75,000 a year for 25 years to pay back the 5% FHA loan. Under the new proposal (required by legal experts) the city will technically be responsible for the entire amount of the repayment if the hospital itself fails to generate any funds to make part of the $140,000 annual payment. The city must also establish a $141,000 reserve fund at a rate of $5,875 a month until this fund reaches $141,000. However, payment on the loan itself will not begin until the project is completed.

This expansion project will include 24 beds in the nursing home, expansion of kitchen, staff dining, storage facilities and emergency room.

Mayor Bob English told the group "this scares me, as we were $20,000 short of projected revenue in December." English also noted that Councilman Sonny Inman would not be voting on the matter because he worked at the hospital.

After some discussion and a motion to table for two weeks that failed to get a second, a motion to take action at this meeting failed on a 3-2 vote. Councilmen Cio Hawkins, David Stokes and Mayor English voted not to take action Monday night, while Councilmen Charles Kennett and John Sharpless voted in favor of taking action immediately.

Kennett noted the nursing home needed the added income, and people in the area needed the additional beds. Sharpless said he felt the same, and pointed out that local families can get quality service at a lower rate than in big city hospitals.

Hawkins said he was concerned the city might have to contribute more than the $75,000, and wouldn't have the money.

English promised the representatives of the hospital an answer as soon as they had had time to study the proposals.

Recreation Director Dennis Smith unveiled a proposed 40-acre recreation project currently under consideration by the city. He showed drawings for a three-year program that would include softball fields, tennis courts, swimming pool, T-ball field, concession stands, jogging track, etc., and would be funded by the city and a 50% outdoor recreation grant. Smith said applications were currently being readied for the first-phase funding of this project. The park would be located on forty acres of land the city currently has options on, located just off Smith Avenue near the city limits. The first year's costs are estimated at $200,000.

Robert Davis, captain of the Elba Rescue Squad, gave a brief report on the status of the squad and the shortage of funds. He also asked for permission to park two rescue vehicles under the shelter at city hall.

The council voted unanimously to discontinue the 2-hour parking ordinance passed by the previous council but never enforced. A survey of the downtown merchants showed they favored the ordinance slightly (19-16), but it was pointed out that only merchants were polled. Police Chief Norris gave an estimate of the cost of signs and an additional policeman. After the council voted to discontinue the ordinance until it was determined if the new shopping center would cut down on congestion, Norris asked for and received permission to work with local citizens who park downtown all day to work or commute, and help them find alternate parking.

Fireman Collis Parrish addressed the council on behalf of the fire department appointed to suggest rules to be adopted by the council on the operation of the fire department. This had been requested by the firemen themselves. When he presented the rules, they were adopted unanimously by the council.

Mayor English asked Councilman Stokes for a report on details of a proposed land swap with developers of the new shopping center. Stokes reported that the owners of the property adjoining the center didn't want to sell part of their property. The council instructed English to find out if the developers will sell the proposed property outright.

Mrs. Mary Flowers gave the council a status report on applications with HUD for funds to construct additional low-rent housing. She said the Housing Authority was filing applications for a 50-unit project, and for a 27-unit project with a senior citizens center. This latter project would be located on city-owned property on Adkinson Street and Tucker Street. She also asked for and received a new cooperation letter between the City of Elba and the Housing Authority. She said the old agreement had been outgrown as the Authority was operating 125 units and planned more. The new letter calls for operating 250 units.

The council reviewed a three-page financial status on the city. It showed some departments over budget, but an overall reduction of $36,000 from budgeted funds.

Several questions concerning the overspending revealed labor costs were higher than anticipated.

Brainstorms

With Ferris Cox

After many long months of twisting our hands and taking big, the Iranians have released the 52 hostages they held in the American embassy for over a year. We don't know all the fine details involved with the swap of the people for the Iranian funds held in American banks, but hope it was all above board. The ironic thing about the money is that it would never have been frozen to start with if those nuts hadn't taken the American embassy and made a bunch of demands on the American governments.

We are looking at a brand new county commission with four of the six voting members brand new. We hope the group will now sit down and make some positive plans for solving the problems of Coffee County. . . . the first being the age-old jail and courthouse debate. We feel that all the fussing about a courthouse here - there - Mobile, has and will continue to just cause arguments. The commissioners and probate judge need to accept the fact that Coffee County has a dual courthouse system. They need to sit down with some experts and set out a five-, six- or seven-year plan for complying with the law on jails, and getting both courthouses in condition to serve the people of Coffee County. The only way this can happen is for all of us to accept the fact that this is the only solution, and work together to do it with the least financial impact possible. We mean by that statement, that with full and proper interest by our elected officials, the goal can be reached with little and possibly no additional tax burden on the people. To the members of the commission we say, "We expect harmony and action - especially action - and will accept nothing less."

Last week we acknowledged that those selling plumbing supplies would be happy with the cold weather, but little did we know that we old editor would be a victim. However, we can't really blame our leak on the freezing weather because we found a pipe joint that had literally rotted under the house. We made the repairs ourselves and were right proud of the end result. However, for a while we thought we had overloaded our wagon. Lying in the cold wet dirt under the house with the floor sills scrubbing our back was bad enough, but nothing would come loose. Finally, after much straining and grunting, we got a hacksaw and cut it off and started over. After a few trips to town for parts, we got the water turned on again, and all that was left was to get those muddy clothes off, take a shower and thaw out our cold, cold body. It makes you appreciate the work of the plumbers who do this every day.

The Peoples Bank is moving forward with plans for their new facility. Recently this newspaper published the required legal notices to find out if anyone knew of a reason for the bank to be closed, and so far the result is okay. The bank plans to remodel the present Piggy Wiggly building into a banking facility, and judging by the plans, it will be hard to realize it was once a grocery store. A sure sign that the community has a future is the investments the banks make in new buildings, and with both Elba banks sinking a lot into new facilities, we can be sure they think Elba has a bright future.

The Elba Housing Authority has been working for some time on getting some additional low-rent housing, and soon it will bear fruit, according to Director Mary Flowers. Mrs. Flowers told members of the City Council what she has been telling us for months, and that is that HUD looks favorably on the proposals being submitted from Elba. We expect to get the word officially in the next month or so that new housing construction will begin.

The proposed recreation project unveiled at the city council meeting Monday night is ambitious and should serve the needs of Elba for years to come. This project, as any other (such as the county problem mentioned above) can only be successful if elected officials work together, and if these officials have the support of the public. One sorehead can do more damage than three positive-thinking folks can counteract.

We are full of excitement this week. The long-promised hospital and nursing home expansion moved a step closer this week, but it caught city officials a bit off guard. They were already concerned over having to raise $75,000 a year for the next 25 years, but found out it could cost them even more under the only method the feds would furnish the 5% money. We personally don't like some of the wording of the leases, management contracts, etc., but accept reality and hope the city fathers go forward with the project, especially after the untold hours of work by the hospital board.

We received a warning notice this week about a garbage scheme being advertised in some weekly newspapers. We were aware of the program, as we had received the ad ourselves. We didn't like the proposal we received, even though it promised us the ad for a full year. Since we had to print the ad right then or never, we filed it in File 13. Now we are hungry and needed the business, as our readers need the 50 cents a gallon rebate on gas, but neither we, the Alabama Press Association, nor the Attorney General's Office can give us the name of the "man with the plan," so we feel we have done our good deed by not printing the advertisement.

We have long scorned Muhammad Ali after he was convicted of draft-dodging during the Vietnam War, but Monday he evened the score. A young man was about to jump from the high-rise office building when Ali talked him into getting off the ninth-floor ledge and going to the hospital. The picture, published in the daily papers of Ali reaching out for the man sure looked good.

There should be a special place in Heaven for private citizens who spend days and nights in a courtroom waiting to testify in trials or who serve on the jury of cases such as the much-publicized drug cases in Elba recently. Many of these people only get a little money from the state as their pay for the time. Members of the jury only get $110 for their eleven days of long hours. Some of them work in jobs that will make up their regular pay, but others get $110 for two weeks work. It will not buy groceries. Often folks who serve as witnesses get much less. We salute them for doing their duty.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Ferris,

May I take this opportunity to thank Joyce Skinner and James Spurrin of the Police Department for helping in time of trouble.

After calling city hall, they would not give any help, nor anyone from the Fire Department.

All I was asking of these places was a ladder to get my grandson's kitten out of a tree 75 feet or more. They would have been paid, I told them all this, but still no help.

But, God bless James Spurrin, he found someone to get the kitten from the tree for me.

I'm sure glad my house was not on fire or my grandson was not in the tree because I'm sure the Fire Department still would not have helped.

Sincerely, JEANETTE TICE Smith Ave.

Pace To Be Given In Dothan

The Professional and Administrative Career Examination (PACE), the entrance to a wide range of federal jobs in the Southeast, will be given to interested persons January 7 through May 2 in Dothan, according to the Office of Civilian Personnel at Ft. Rucker.

This examination gives candidates with college degrees or equivalent experience the opportunity to compete for a wide variety of entry (GS (General Schedule) 5 and 7 jobs in federal agencies.

To apply, candidates must first register for the written test by submitting Civil Service Commission (CSC) Form 5000-B to the Huntsville Area Office, Office of Personnel Management, Southernland Building, 800 Governors Drive, S.W., Huntsville, AL 35801.

The form is available from that office and must be received by them between January 19 and February 13 to take the test during the period mentioned. Applications postmarked after February 13 will be returned without action, unless the applicant is entitled to specific filing privileges under Civil Service laws.

Jobs filled through this examination include personnel specialists, contract and procurement specialists, budget analysts, veterans claims examiners, and tax technicians. Specific information concerning the duties and responsibilities of these and other positions can be found in the Federal Career Directory available at Federal Job Information Center in Huntsville and in college placement offices. As of October 1980, the starting salaries for GS-5 and GS-7 positions were $12,266 and $15,193, respectively.

For more information, contact the Huntsville Area Office at the above address or by phoning (205) 453-5070 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Mondays through Fridays.

Landowners who have been involved in reforestation efforts this year may be eligible for a tax break. On October 14, 1980, President Carter signed Public Law 96-451 which includes a reforestation tax incentive amendment. Landowners may claim a 10% investment tax credit, plus a 7% amortization on the first $10,000 of capitalized reforestation expenditures incurred after December 31, 1979.

Prior to the passage of this law, direct costs incurred in reforestation efforts were required to be capitalized. The taxable gain was simply determined by offsetting these costs against the amount realized from the sale of the timber.

In filing a tax return this year, the 10% investment tax credit will be subtracted from the amount of taxes owed. The 7-year amortization deductions are allowed as above-the-line deductions and are subtracted from the gross income to obtain an adjusted gross income. The first-year amortization period begins with the first day of the first month of the last half of the taxable year. Therefore, the deduction would also be one-half. For example, the first year's deduction would be one-fourteenth of the total cost, one-seventh of the cost would be deducted in each of the next six years, and one-fourteenth would again be deducted in the last year.

To qualify for this incentive, land must be used for the production of timber in significant quantities (at least one acre). Shelterbelts are excluded since they are already covered under another section of the law. Also excluded are ornamental trees.

All expenditures must be direct costs incurred to plant or seed for reforestation or reforestation purposes. This would include costs for site preparation, seedlings, seedlings, labor and tool costs

Elba FFA Holds Initiation

Elba High School FFA Chapter held their annual initiation for all new members who have joined the FFA this year, on Thursday, January 8.

The initiation is held for all first-year students enrolled in Agribusiness and also have paid their dues to join the FFA Chapter.

A student can be in Agribusiness without having to join the FFA, but they also miss out on a lot of club activities if they are not a member.

First-year students can always look forward to the next year because they know it will be their turn to break in the new students.

First-year students are known as green hands, and second-year students are Chapter Farmers if they meet the requirements.

We initiated 37 new members this year which gives us a total number of 66 for the year.

Our club is growing every year, and we hope to see more students become a part of the FFA next year.

Before you buy that Homeowner policy with the "New Home Discount"

talk to your Cotton States agent, and compare his Homeowner plan to the one you're considering.

Whether your home is brand new or several years old, your Cotton States agent is committed to providing the most complete and the most affordable Homeowner protection for you.

And he might have the answer to some questions that could make a big difference in your premium rate. For example:

- Yes, we do give discounts for safety installations like burglar and fire alarms.

- We offer liberal credits for higher deductibles. Your credit is figured on a straight percentage, without a maximum amount of discount.

- With a Cotton States policy everyone—not just owners of new homes—has the advantages of our low, competitive rates.

- Cotton States does not automatically raise your rates to "guard against inflation." We offer you the opportunity to decide when and how much you want to increase your insurance coverage.

Don't settle for the policy that sounds the least expensive. You deserve more than that for your money.

You deserve answers.

76 PAGES DUE IN 2 WEEKS

BY: SANDRA MOBLEY

With only two weeks to the final deadline, the annual staff has begun to work in earnest. We only have 76 more pages to go and we'll be finished! If we can be finished! If we can be finished! If we can be finished!

If anyone talks to one of the annual staff or Mrs. Bryan and they are answered SPORTY and SHARPLY, we are not just being ugly - we are under a great deal of pressure.

We have sold 200 year-books and have no more available for sale unless Paragon prints more than the 200 we have ordered. If there are extra books in April when the books arrive (we hope), they will be sold on a first-come, first-served basis.

The cost of the extra books will be $10 each.

ALMOST THERE!

BY: VICKIE ELLISON

January 14 was the final day of picture-taking for the yearbook. Elementary beauty pageant pictures were made along with pee-wee and termite homecoming.

Now that all the pictures are taken, the annual staff will be busy cropping pictures, drawing final layouts, preparing type sheets and boxing it up to meet our February 1 final deadline.

Senior portraits and memory books which were ordered earlier in the school year have finally arrived. As you pass down the hall or by one of the open class rooms, you will usually see someone either admiring their new pictures or writing some special memory in their memory book.

In just a few weeks, caps and gowns will be ordered and the seniors will be well on their way to graduating. As the day draws nearer, seniors smile with the knowledge that their late and no homework will be their new pastimes.

The realization of becoming an adult is a frightening one, but one that will be met head-on by the seniors of 1981.

Myers, Lindsey & Company Perform

BY: RICKY NICKOLSON

Due to a recent tragedy in the lives of an area family, "The Renegades" gave a benefit concert in order to raise funds.

The members of the group are: Randall Myers (band director at Zion Chapel), Mike Lindsey (basketball coach at Zion Chapel), Ronny Sliver, Richard and Lisa Heider, and the stand-in drummer, Jerry Byrd.

The audience was "entertained" by such songs as "Good-hearted Woman," "On the Road Again," "Desperado," "To Mama Don't Dance," "For the Good Times," "Fire and Rain," "Rolling with the Flow," and others. Mr. Myers also performed "You Decorated My Life" on the trumpet.

Overall it was a good concert except for the jokes Mr. Myers told. They really could use some improvement. (Seriously -- Mr.

Myers' jokes are the high point of our day.)

The program lasted approximately two hours and a substantial amount was raised.

Also performing was a local gospel group whose members are Wayne Whittington, Ray Stinson and Fred Nightington.

Thanks to such people as those that donated and those that performed, such unfortunate hardships are eased and many other tragedies avoided. We are lucky to have them connected with Zion Chapel.

WHAT IF

BY: KIM DYESS

Everyone knew what they were gonna do their stories on each week instead of having to ask Mrs. Bryan.

RICKY NICKOLSON ALWAYS HAD A NEWS-PAPER STORY ON TIME.

We all got new desks next year.

The Zion Chapel classrooms were not like the North Pole in the mornings and the Bahamas in the afternoon.

People laughed at Mr. Myers' jokes.

Coach Lindsey's wit weren't razor sharp.

We never had to answer questions in American History again.

Mrs. Herbert wasn't so nosy.

Everyone got straight A's on their report cards.

Vickie beat Boyd up instead of Boyd beating Vickie up.

Hayes hadn't set a record by going steady with Donna for 2 years.

Every week loads of stories needed to be written, and we didn't have to do columns like this to make a newspaper!

Alumni Urged To Contact ESJC

BY: MARY JO HUSKEY

An effort is underway at Enterprise State Junior College to obtain an updated mailing list of all former students, and urge them to attend an Alumni Reunion Banquet scheduled for 6 p.m. Saturday, February 7, 1981.

We will start mailing a quarterly Alumni Newsletter April 15, 1981, and need a current mailing list and information on our former students.

Bill Foreman, Alumni Activities Director, said, "We hope to keep them informed on their former classmates and upcoming activities," he added.

The banquet will be part of the Homecoming activities and will feature fun, games and prizes for all. Most ESJC teachers, staff and administrators will be present, and alumni will have time to mix and mingle with former classmates and college personnel.

This event is designed with the alumni in mind," Foreman said. "We will have facilities to take care of alumni children while they participate in all of the activities."

ESJC's Female Boll Weevil basketball team will play Lurleen B. Wallace at 5 p.m.; the Alumni Reunion Banquet is at 6 p.m.; the men's basketball team plays LBW at 8 p.m. with homecoming activities at half-time.

Alumni are invited to attend all activities. All is free except the dinner which is provided for $4 per person.

Alumni are urged to come and bring the family. Reservations (status symbols) play an important part in our spending habits. Changing social patterns, such as more people eating at fast-food establishments, has made an impact on spending habits.

It is interesting to look back over your spending patterns for the past year and see just what you do value most, and what has influenced your spending.

Foreman said,

"We would also like to urge parents who have had sons or daughters attend ESJC to call 347-2623 and give us their current address."

MAKING GOOD IN THE CHRISTIAN LIFE

Someone asked a man of God, "Which do you consider the more important: Bible study or secret prayer?"

Replied the man of God, "Which do you consider the more important to a bird—the right wing or the left?"

The early Christians realized this. We are told they continued steadfastly in the apostles' doctrine and in prayer.

Scriptures, they must be read slowly and with meditation. David said of the blessed man, "In God's law doth he meditate day and night." (Psalm 119:10)

In this busy period of the world's history meditation has become almost a lost art. But the child of God will retire to some quiet chamber "far from the madding crowd" and will find there great enjoyment reading the dear old Bible and then quietly ruminate like a true sheep.

The world calls time spent in this manner wasted, but an hour a day invested in such quiet meditation on God's Word will yield dividends in spiritual blessing and bodily health all the rest of our lives.

But Bible study will be of little account without the habit of secret prayer. It is scarcely necessary to say that no Christian can be a success without daily prayer.

Jesus said, "When thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret, and thy Father will reward thee secretly." (Matthew 6:6)

Every Christian should have a stated time each day which he can give to the holy office of prayer. To go alone whenever opportunity offers and spend a while in prayer is good, but to fix a certain time for prayer and to stick to that time is far better, for this we form the habit of prayer and it soon becomes a regular part of our daily lives.

By these two wings—the study of the Word and prayer—we are lifted Heavenward. If we neglect the Word of God and pray only, we will soon become emotional and hopelessly fanatic. But if we both pray and study the Scriptures, our lives will be full-rounded and full-orbed, a blessing to men and the glory of God.

Just go to the mirror and look at yourself. And see what that man has so say.

For isn't your father or mother or wife?

Whose judgment on you must pass?

The fellow whose verdict counts most in your life is the one starting back from the glass.

If everything goes according to plan, in three short years the City of Elba will have a new recreation complex that will be second to none. The City has submitted a three-year project to the Federal government for funding that includes plans for 3 softball fields, 1 baseball park, 3 tennis courts, a modern concession stand and pressbox, an Olympic size swimming pool and a complete bath-house. I know there has been talk of added recreational facilities in the past, but we now have a dedicated group of city officials that have shown a true interest in recreation. Last week a public hearing for discussion of the new park was held, and a drawing of the first phase (3 ball parks) was unveiled. It really looked sharp, and everyone at the meeting felt talking about the future of Elba's recreation department.

Get ready folks - we're soon going to have something to be really proud of!

There were several basketball tournaments around the area last week and I managed to catch at least one night's action at three of them. I made it to the S.A.C. (in Andalusia), S.E.A.C. (in Kinston) and the W.A.C. (in Dothan), and I guarantee you I saw plenty of good teams. The best tournament, from a fan's point of view, had to be the Kinston. Only six teams took part, but every game was hotly contested and the players put on quite a show. It was a very enjoyable tourney to cover, and it made my job very exciting. What a week!

I only made it to the S.A.C. tourney one night, but it was more than enough because the tourney has turned into a very difficult affair. Don't get me wrong, the teams all played well, especially Brundidge, but the location has all but ruined the annual event. The L.B.W. gym is nice, however, it simply does not make a good home for a high-school tourney! There is no spirit because there is no local interest, and none of the teams play well on the long college court. Add to that the cost of using the gym and you wind up with a tourney that loses money almost every year. I can't figure out why the coaches vote to return year after year!

I strongly urge the conference to return the tourney to the schools, and let the site be rotated among the 12 schools. It will pump life into the event and create a renewed spirit among the participants. Do it now, before it is too late!

This week's "Clipper Poll" has a familiar look, but does include at least a couple of new teams. There are a couple of other polls in the state, however, the Clipper Poll includes just the tops in the South. Here goes...

There was a lot of excitement a few weeks ago when a local coach claimed his 100th career win, but few people realize there is a coach in Coffee County who is nearing his 300th victory. That's right - 300! Who is it? New Brockton's Coach Charles Cole. Coach Cole has coached at Warren High School, New Hope Junior High and New Brockton, and has been a proven winner everywhere he has been. After last Friday's win over Kinston, Coach Cole's career win total stood at 287 - quite a feat for a coach in any sport. Keep going, Coach, we're counting down your trip into prep basketball history!

A formal announcement will come in a couple of weeks, but I just couldn't wait to tell everyone that in a couple of months I'll join the ranks of the married men. Kathy Whitman and I became engaged on Christmas Day, and right now we're talking about a Mr. wedding. I know it's got nothing to do with sports, but I just wanted everyone to know!

AG Warns Of Gas Rebate Scheme

Attorney General Charles Graddick warned Alabama consumers a few days ago of an apparent gasoline rebate scheme advertised in some newspapers. Graddick said the office has had inquiries from attorneys' offices across the United States regarding the scheme.

"It is another deal that is just too good to be true," Graddick said, "and that is the kind my office advises consumers to avoid."

The advertisement, usually placed in small weekly or daily papers, implies rebates on gasoline and other petroleum products are available from a government program. Graddick says. Investigation has shown that no such program exists.

Advertisements are placed with the papers on a standard order form, but payment is not received for the ads, some papers are reported. "Both the newspapers which run the ads, and the kind my office, advises consumers to avoid."

Idea coming in. Why not send yours in today? Mail to me at P.O. Box 489, New Brockton, AL.

County Agent Dan Presley will help solve some repair dilemmas in which you find yourself. This demonstration will be held today (Thursday), January 22, 9:30 - 11:30 a.m., at the County Extension Office. You will learn practical information which will save you many dollars in repair bills. Mark this date on your calendar.

LESS TENDER MEAT

With inflation and prices going higher, you may consider buying cheaper, less tender cuts of beef. Don't let it get the best of you. There are some preparation techniques that make the less-tender beef a well-deserved addition at the dinner table. Cuts like chuck and round are easily tenderized. Soaking a cut of meat in a slightly acid solution helps tenderize connective tissue in those less tender cuts of meat. To do this, use a marinade of tomato juice, lemon juice, vinegar, or wine plus some cooking oil.

Turn the meat occasionally as it soaks in the marinade to distribute it evenly. The size and shape of a piece of meat determines how long it should be marinated, but 12 to 24 hours is recommended. I like to use a well-sealed plastic bag for this method and it seems the meat is evenly coated with the marinade.

FASHION TIPS

This winter's accent in women's clothing is on femininity. And items, which have risen some already, will rise some more.

Dresses, shirts and blouses have soft, pretty details like ruffles, bows, lace, tucks, embroidery and small Peter Pan collars. Pants range from as low as the ankle to as high as mid-calf. Shop for knickers, bermudas and culottes. At work, wear twill, corduroy, French canvas, tweed and wool flannel.

Sweaters are big - in size and popularity. Cardigan and jacket styles are warm. This is good as you lower your thermostat to save energy.

REMOVING STAINS

All the hustle and bustle of the holiday season may leave its mark on your carpets. If you find spots and stains on your floor coverings, these suggestions may help you.

The most important step in stain removal is to act promptly. Blot liquid spills immediately with a clean, white cloth or paper paper towels. Avoid rubbing stains more than necessary. Work from the outer edge of the stain toward the center. This will prevent the stain from spreading.

Test a stain remover on a hidden area to see if the dye is affected. If it is, call a professional cleaner. Don't attempt to clean it yourself. Avoid getting the carpet too wet. Dry a wet area by blotting up as much moisture as possible, then drying it quickly to prevent mildew.

There are two types of cleaning solutions which are easy to keep on hand and use at home. The first is a solution of detergent, vinegar and water. It can be used to remove most water-based stains. To make it, mix one teaspoon of light detergent and one teaspoon of white vinegar in a quart of water.

Oil-based stains are different. For these, use a dry cleaning fluid like that used for clothing. Be sure to read any precautions on the label before using it.

John Evans (right), of the Brewton office of the Alabama Highway Patrol (Department of Public Safety) is shown presenting a "Certificate of Appreciation and Commendation" to Covington Electric General Manager John E. Hill, in recognition of the Cooperative's completing more than three years and 400,000 hours of work without a lost-time accident. The certificate, signed jointly by Governor Fob James, and Director of the Department of Public Safety Jerry Shoemaker, cited Covington Electric for "...the many hours devoted to the prevention of motor vehicle accidents, the consistent, continuous, interest in the safety and well-being of employees and the people of the area, and personnel of the Cooperative accident, and contributed immeasurably to the overall reduction in traffic accidents in Alabama."

ALL AROUND COFFEE COUNTY By Tom Casaday, County Farm Agent

CONFIDENCE

Dean Bond, our former peanut specialist who is now gardening specialist at Auburn, always came up with some good comments. He said, "A peanut grower has to believe that given the right weather conditions he can improve his peanut yield year after year."

Speaking of believing in something, S. S. Mills said, "One person with a belief is equal to a force of 99 who only have interest."

LEARNING

Brenda Allen of our staff is working closely with individuals who are interested in home production of vegetables and commercial production. She has some excellent suggestions on how you can improve your gardening this year. She is an excellent teacher and has sound basic ideas about successful gardening.

Thinking about prices of vegetables reminds me that Coffee County farmers and homeowners need to produce as much of their food at home as possible. Learning more about gardening reminds me of the philosophy about people learning to do things. Someone said, "Give me a fish and I eat for a lifetime."

Miss Allen will be delighted to work with you as an individual or with groups in helping improve home gardens.

THINGS TO REMEMBER

Fertilize your pecan trees around February 1. That is not long off. Use a mixed fertilizer like 8-8-8 or 13-13-13 with zinc in it. If the fertilizer does not have zinc, get some zinc sulfate and put 3-5 pounds per tree every three or four years.

Fertilize with ammonium nitrate also around February 1. On older trees you can use 10-15 pounds of ammonium nitrate per year. Use less on young, smaller trees. Many older pecan trees would need 15-20 pounds of mixed fertilizer per tree. Fertilize according to size. Spread fertilizer from base of trees as far out as the limbs reach.

Incidentally, the middle of February may be the ideal time to prune peach trees in this area. If you prune too early, you are more likely to get cold damage.

SOYBEANS

Some Coffee County soybean growers may use beans out of their own seed bins if they can't get certified seed this year at a reasonable price. Be sure to know the germination on your seed before deciding to use them. Did you know that you can have up to $10 worth of free testing done per month at the State Seed Lab in Montgomery, AL 36193. If you need additional information, call me at 894-5596.

MACHINERY

Don't forget to get your planters out and other machinery ready for plowing and planting. We will have a few acres of corn planted about 30 days from now. So the planting season is going to be with us before we know it. One of the most disgusting things is to have beautiful weather where you can plow or plant and then find that your equipment is broken down and in the shop. You can avoid this by getting them lined up now.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS Bill Hughes, District Conservationist

RAINFALL OFF BY 80% WATER CONSERVATION IMPORTANT FOR FUTURE

The average annual rainfall for Coffee County is 55.1 inches. It will be surprising to most farmers to learn that over 57 inches fell during 1980. The problem was not total amounts during last year but distribution - 70% of the annual rainfall fell during the first five months, leaving 30% or 17 inches to be distributed over seven months. From the end of May till December 31, 1980 rainfall was 80 percent below normal.

DISASTER - The only term to describe the effect of this type of drought is disastrous - with farmers losing hundreds of thousands of dollars, and many farmers having to sell out completely and most of the rest hoping they will recover by the year 2000.

Many farmers have already contacted our office seeking information and assistance in site selection, design and construction of ponds for irrigation. Irrigation is almost cost prohibitive for small acreage. Many smaller farmers have come in asking for assistance and questioning if they should invest in irrigation. This decision can only be made by you, but the economics of the purchase point toward a very low return on your investment.

Many farmers will be deciding whether to purchase irrigation systems during the next few months. This decision can only be made by you, but the economics of the purchase point toward a very low return on your investment.

Another problem is cost. Most irrigation systems now cost in excess of $30,000 minimum. Interest, underground pipe and fuel push the annual cost much higher. Since the initial cost and interest rates are high, irrigation is almost cost prohibitive for small acreage. Many smaller farmers have come in asking for assistance and questioning if they should invest in irrigation. This decision can only be made by you, but the economics of the purchase point toward a very low return on your investment.

If you have need for this type of information, please contact your local Soil Conservation Service Office at 894-6332 or the Coffee County Farm Center, P.O. Box 339, New Brockton, AL 36351.

Is there a better way to learn how to make a tool box than by actually doing it? You can't imagine how many phone calls I receive concerning the woodworking exhibit. "Should my box be made out of plywood or out of pine?" "Where can I buy some wood or how many nails do I have to put in the side of the box?"

All 4-H'ers in Coffee County receive plans in their 4-H meeting showing them how to build this year's 4-H woodworking exhibit. Some years it is a shoebox, a birdhouse, or a gun rack. Competition is broken up into two categories - Jr. boys and girls and Sr. boys and girls. Most of the time junior boys and girls get their parents to help while the senior boys and girls get their teachers to help them. The 4-H woodworking exhibits are turned in the December 4-H meeting and returned to the 4-H'ers in January with announcement of the winners. First-prize junior and senior winners will represent

In fact I have had some 4-H'ers come and pick up their exhibit during December after the judging and give them to family members for Christmas gifts. Every 4-H'er who participates receives a ribbon and they will wear them all day. Can you imagine someone trying to get that ribbon off a shirt? This leads to a free-for-all!
